TORONTO CELEBRATES HUNDRED YEARS OF CITY LIFE

At a midnight thanksgiving service attended by more than 12,000 citizens, the city of Toronto entered its hundredth year of city life with great rejoicing, while on the lake front of the Queen City a huge bonfire flashed its message as thousands of enthusiastic Torontonians cheered. The photographs above were taken at the service and show (top) the grandsons and descendants of William Lyon Mackenzie, first Mayor of Toronto. On the extreme left of the group is the Right Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King, former Prime Minister of Canada. In the lower left group are, left to right: Hon. Geo. S. Henry, Premier of Ontario; Right Hon. R. B. Bennett, Prime Minister of Canada, and Hon. Dr. Herbert Bruce, Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario. In the circle is Lord Desborough, the Governor-General of Canada, beside whom is seated William James Stewart, Mayor of Toronto in 1934.

ON THE WING WITH MRS. ROOSEVELT

An intimate study (below) of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, made aboard the plane in which she flew to the Virgin Islands, as she gave an interview to a press representative while in flight. Top, Mrs. Roosevelt and Professor Reg. Tugwell (left), "Brain Trust" member, are greeted by Cuban officials on arrival at Neuquitas, Cuba.

ANOTHER NEW BRIDGE TO SPAN OLD MOTHER THAMES

The above picture shows the design of the new Chelsea Bridge, which is a suspension structure of steel and which will span the River Thames. This will make four new bridges to go over the Thames in London within the next three years.

AMUSED AT TRIAL

There seemed to be a cocksure confidence in the smile of Manny Strel, former beer runner, as he listens to the opening of his trial in Albany, with her husband and brother-in-law Strel is charged with participation in the kidnapping of John J. O'Connell, Jr., of the powerful political clan. He acted as "contact man" between the victim's family and kidnappers during ransom negotiations.

TO FIGHT GUILTY VERDICT

"I am not guilty and I shall fight as long as I live!" Thus did Dr. Alice Wynne comment on the verdict that convicted her of slaying her daughter-in-law, Rheta Wynne. The aged defendant is here shown in Chicago as she heard her sentence of 25 years in prison.

SON OF SHERIFF GUARDS FATHER'S SLAYER

RADIO SINGERS NOW USE CELLOPHANE TO MUTE VOICE

Cellophane has now come to the aid of the radio singer. It has always been difficult to get a really good reproduction of a coloratura soprano voice on the radio. Strange things happen to such voices on the air. Then came the idea of muting the voice. A hood of the transparent material was made, in which a singer can stand and sing her bluest notes without fear of microphonic vibrations.

DIRECTOR (during filming of "Jungle Passion"): "Thank Heaven, he's yawning at last. Camera, Joe, quick! And you, Charlie, roar like mad into the microphone!"

At the left is the jail at Crown Point, Indiana, from which John Dillinger, the notorious bank robber and killer, made a daring escape after bluffing guards with a toy pistol and securing a machine gun. Above, Dillinger is shown, leaning affectionately on the shoulder of the Prosecuting Attorney, Mr. Zetell, after his arrival from Tucson, Arizona. At the left in the group is Mrs. Lillian Holley, woman sheriff of Lake County, who had charge of the desperado.

FAN DANCER FLIRTS IN COLD NORTHWEST

Fay Baker, fan dancer, makes friends with a Royal Canadian Mounted Policeman at Regina, Dominion headquarters of the famous red coats. This was a new experience for the American dancer, who just a short time ago broke into the news when she was missing for four days in Canada's northland after the aeroplane in which she was flying was forced down. In Regina, where Fay did her fan dancing act, local authorities insisted that she wear tights during her performance.

"What annoys me is that I might have met you long ago if I hadn't been such a careful driver."

HE ASKED FOR STRENGTH THAT HE MIGHT ACHIEVE—

He was made weak that he might obey.

He asked for health that he might do greater things.

He was given infirmity that he might do better things.

He asked for riches that he might be happy.

He was given poverty that he might be wise.

He asked for power that he might have.

He was given weakness that he might feel the need of God.

He asked for all things that he might enjoy all things.

He received nothing that he asked for.

His prayer was answered.

THE POWER OF SUGGESTION

We have ceased to be fierce partisans for or against the cult of suggestion, because most of us now accept the fact that suggestion does play a considerable part in our lives. But we do not always recognize all its powers. We know that when we are not feeling up to the mark and others tell us how ill we are looking, we immediately begin to feel distinctly more out of sorts. In the same way, when someone says, "How well you look," we generally react favorably and look out on the world through rose-tinted glasses.

But I often think we do not understand how much suggestion can bring out the best or worst in character. Most of us are not dual but multiple personalities. We are more or less different beings when in the company of different people, because, unconsciously, we behave as we feel we are expected to behave. Thus, the friend who looks for the generous, lovable side of our nature will usually be treated to that; and the unsympathetic who suspects us of meanness, or who takes a practice of irritating us, will surely awaken antagonism. There are those in whose company we are always smiling, while there are others with whom we are not only serious but whom we can speak our secret thoughts. In such instances we are instinctively reacting to the suggestion which they are knowingly or unknowingly, subtly putting before our minds as their preconceived notion of us.

The power of suggestion can be a strong agent for good or a dangerous weapon, according to how it is used. This is why we should be careful in applying in our relations with our neighbors, whether we are dealing with their physical or their psychological make-up.

BERNARD SHAW SAYS:

Proverbs are short sentences drawn from life, expressing the truth.

Self-trust is the first secret of success.

Never think I have laid hard upon it.

The memory strengthens as you lay it.

A pleasant possession is useless without a confidant.

Quarrels would not last long if the wrong were only on one side.

Remember—

If it is right, there is no other way.

You become a person of promise, by promising nothing, but by accomplishing what you promise.

CLEANING BATHS AND RABBIT WOOL BONNETS

Rub well with equal quantities of salt and water, leave for a few hours, then shake well. This process makes the bonnet look like new again and saves shrinkage by washing.

GUIDE NOTES

Guide: Mrs. J. M. Sweeney.

The regular weekly meeting of the Girl Guides was held Tuesday, March 20. After the usual business, many Mrs. Sweeney read the legends of St. Andrew and St. Patrick. Knits were reviewed and some reviewed and some reviewed.

The meeting closed with the singing of "Taps."

ACTIVITIES OF THE C. W. L.

The president and members of the C. W. L. will be to thank everyone in town and country who helped to make St. Patrick's tea and sale such a successful success.

The committee in charge consisted of Mrs. Geo. Stokes, convener, assisted by Mrs. Clarence Shindler, Mrs. J. Crumery, Mrs. Hickman, Mrs. Ouellette and Mrs. Pittard.

Mrs. Hanan was the lucky winner of an Afghan made by the Junior C.W.L. Handicraft Club.

Mrs. J. Charley has been appointed W. L. Study Club convener, and Mrs. Roy Pittard corresponding secretary.

The next meeting of the Study Club will be held at the home of Mrs. Tom Murray on Wednesday afternoon on May 23.

DELIGHTFULLY CELEBRATE WEDDING ANNIVERSARIES

Mrs. and Mrs. L. J. Walters, who live on the Emerson Trail, their place being three miles west of Seasmith, last Friday evening celebrated at their home the 45th anniversary of their wedding. At the same time and place celebrated the 45th anniversary of their wedding. At the same time and place celebration was enjoyed and a delightful lunch was served.

Besides the guests of honor and their families there were: Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Walters and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Redwood and family.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Julius E. Charlier, who for the past ten years has been farming west of Grande Prairie, passed away on Monday morning, March 19, in the Central Sanatorium, Alberta.

Funeral services will be held in St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church on Saturday forenoon.

Deceased was in his 64th year, and was formerly employed in Boise, Idaho, as a quartz miner.

Next week there may be many a broken-hearted boy, and possibly girl, who contemplates the business of a dog-catcher. There is no question but that the canine intends to put into operation his decision, which results in many incidents which happened in the city of Chicago many years ago when the authorities were attempting to lead down the dog population of the city.

Catching dogs was a profession and there was a dog-catcher in the business. The dog-catchers are here. And many a canine was saved death by chloroform from the cruel action of the boys.

Whether similar scenes will be enacted next week when Constable Borge walks forth with his net remains to be seen.

Death Suddenly Calls T. W. Hill Of Rio Grande

The sudden death of T. W. Hill of Rio Grande last Friday afternoon, March 16, came as a great shock to the many friends throughout the district.

The late Mr. Hill was born at Mitchell, Ontario, in 1867. He came west in 1890, and lived almost continuously south of Edmonton till 1917, when he moved to the Grande Prairie country and homesteaded at Rio Grande, where, together with his brother Albert, he has lived ever since and by hard work and good farming prospered.

Mr. Hill was an ardent supporter of all efforts to advance the welfare of the north country. He was a member of Lake Saskatchewan, 100, A. F. & A. M., and also a charter member of Halcourt, L. O. L., under whose auspices the funeral took place. It was mainly due to his untiring efforts that Halcourt, L. O. L., was instituted on February 27, 1924, and when Halcourt Orange Lodge Hall was built (became April 14, 1924), he was the one chosen by the Orange brethren to superintend the building of the hall, a work he did faithfully and well. The spirit Mr. Hill bore toward the Grande Prairie country was fostered by the fact that he labored a month or more on the building and never charged the lodge one dollar for labor—it was a labor of love to him. He was also greatly interested in the welfare of Woods Orphan Home, Calgary, and was a regular contributor.

A man of the highest integrity, the warm regard in which the late Mr. Hill is regarded was evinced by the large number of friends who gathered for the Halcourt Orange Lodge building the deceased loved so well and where the funeral services were held to pay their last respects.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Geo. A. Shindler, and were very appropriately. Mr. Art. Funnell sang that beautiful hymn, "The Peace of God," Mr. B. P. Funnell playing the accompaniment. Miss Verma Rasmussen, an old friend of the family, played for the service.

Those left to mourn Mr. Hill's passing are: A. J. Hill and family, Rio Grande; W. C. Hill, Firdale, Ont.; Mrs. Conway, Laidlaw, Ont.; Mrs. Stenman, Mitchell, Ont.; Rebekah Hill, Mitchell, Ont.

In the passing away of Walter Hill, the Grande Prairie has lost one of its strongest supporters, but no less as Halcourt, L. O. L. continues his memory will ever remain fresh and fair in the hearts of its members, and the members of Halcourt, L. O. L., 2800, extend to the bereaved ones their heartfelt sympathy in their hour of sorrow.

There were many beautiful floral offerings, chief ones being wreaths from Lake Saskatchewan 100, A. F. & A. M., G. R. A. and Halcourt, L. O. L., 2800.

After the church service the short simple Christian service of the Grande Prairie was conducted at the home of the officers and members of Halcourt, L. O. L.

The pallbearers were: Wor. Bro. E. Swanson, Bro. B. Bollen, and Bro. Chas. Lawson, representing Lake Saskatchewan.

100, Wm. Bro. Ed. Miller, Bro. Ross, and Bro. Dave Ramsey, representing Halcourt, L. O. L.

But for the touch of an vanished hand
And the sound of a voice that is still."

The rates raised for other roads, he asked later by a reporter of The Tribune, Mr. Pratt said: "What this import tax rate means to the Peace River country is that before this rate came into effect it cost packers to haul cream from the Peace River country to the Peace River country at a rate of $2 per hundred, and the new rate would mean that it would cost them $3 per hundred more for the haul."
